

KAKCHING KHUNOU COLLEGE
KAKCHING KHUNOU, UMATHEL
KAKCHING DISTRICT, MANIPUR-795103

DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY

COURSE OUTCOMES

B Sc- Anthropology

Semester-I

Subject Code-AN-E101

Foundation of Anthropology

After completion of this course of study, students are sure to understand the following-

1. What is Anthropology, historical development, its scope as well as main branches of Anthropology.
2. The relationship of Anthropology with other disciplines and can also realise the basic knowledge of pre-literate societies.
3. The idea of Man as biological and social being, Man's position in Animal Kingdom, and can also compare human society with animal society as well as basic idea of culture.
4. The concept of single species, Homo sapiens, understanding variations. Biological culture as well as different physical characteristics that outcomes from adaptation.

SEMESTER - II

Subject:- AN-E 202: Physical Anthropology

Credit:- Theory-3 practical-5.

Course objectives:- To provide an understanding of the physical Anthropology background of man as a primate and Anatomical features, and evolution of man as hominoid and hominid fossils.

Course Outcome:-

- ❖ Students will learn about the physical, anthropological background and its relationship with other different branches of Anthropology.
- ❖ Learn about the character of man as a primate.
- ❖ Learn about historical evolution of hominoid and hominids fossils.
- ❖ Practical understanding of anthropological instrument through Anthropometry (Somatometry, Osteometry and Craniometry).

SEMESTER-III

Subject Code: AN-E103 Social Anthropology.

Course objectives:- After completion of this course of study, students will surely be able to -

1. Understand about the general ideas of social and culture Anthropology and its relationships with other disciplines.
2. Understand about the concept of society and its social groups as well as the relation of society and culture.
3. Understand the different social units like family, Marriage, Kinship their definitions, types and functions as well as ways of acquiring mates.
4. Understand the tribal forms of government and laws, policy of state and stateless societies, their economy, religion, rights and rituals.

SEMESTER-IV

Subject: AN-E-404: Prehistoric Archaeology.

After completion of the course of study, students will be able to understand the knowledge of :-

1. Nature and Scope of Prehistoric Archaeology and its relationship with other branches of Anthropology.
2. General ideas of Geological time and appearance of man, its significance and cause as well as method of dating e.g. C₁₄ and Potassium Argon dating etc.
3. Distinguishing features between man made tools and naturally fragmented alleged tools and its different techniques, identification as well as classification and functions of each and every tool.
4. Drawing the different tools of lower Paleolithic and maintenance of laboratory note book , identifying different flakes.
5. Practical understanding of Prehistoric culture will be gained through tool and Pottery Techniques.

SEMESTER - V

Subject:- AN-H505: Physical Anthropology

Credit-4 (Theory)

Course objectives:- To impart conceptual and theoretical knowledge of human genetics related to different, stages of growth and concept of human race.

Course Outcome:-

1. Basic theoretical knowledge about human genetics can be achieved.
2. Learn about the aspects of different stages of growth and factors affecting growth.
3. Students easily can catch up a particular racial group by applying certain different racial criteria.

SEMESTER- V

Subject:- AN-H506 : Prehistoric Archeology

Credit:- Theory 4+Practical-7

Course objectives:- To provide an understanding of the prehistoric and archaeological background of evolution, variation and continuity of human society and culture through various regions.

Course Outcome:-

1. Archaeology background of Prehistoric, evolution of culture of Europe and India.
2. Archaeological background of Proto-historic evolution of culture of Indian will be gained.
3. Practical understanding of anthropometry serology, dermatoglyphics and human physiology.
4. Practical understanding of prehistoric culture will be gained through tool and pottery techniques.

SEMESTER-VI

Subject:-AN-H608

Advanced Social and cultural Anthropology.

After completion of this course of study students should be able to----

1. Understand about the ideas of social change, how it causes and its factors.
2. Understand important theories of social and cultural Anthropology in prominent countries like British, German and America. For example Evolutionism, Neo-evolutionism and Diffusionism.
3. Understand some important ethnic groups like the Nuer, the Purum, the Onge, the Chin and the Khasi as political organization. Kinship organization, economy, Religion and Inheritance respectively.
4. Understand the Profile of Indian tribes, their socio-economic, linguistic, race, land alienation, constitutional safeguard, Globalization, Caste system, etc.

SEMESTER-VI

Subject: AN-H609

Research Methodology and Applied Anthropology.

After completion of this important course students are sure to understand.

1. How research work is done through field work-traditions and Methods of data collection.
2. Some main basic knowledge of calculations with the help of statistical formulae.
3. About the different steps of Report writing which are collected information from primary and secondary sources.
4. About the concept and scope of Applied, Action and Development of Anthropology.

Course Outcomes:- Each and every student of the department of Anthropology can be an academician by profession in various institutions, College, Universities and Industries. Under this course of studies, students can also participate in all competitive examinations of India. More interestingly, students can also apply especially in Anthropological Survey of India, Crime and Criminology Department and Forensic Science, Culture Department etc. Therefore Job opportunity is very great.